GET BETTER ANSWERS

Be specific. Instead of “Does anyone know how to handle this?” try: “Has anyone worked with this type of project before? We’re considering two approaches, and I’d love to hear what worked for your organization.”

04 SHARE A RESOURCE

Templates, presentations, checklists and other useful materials can be attached to a group post.

- Create a new post.
- Select the File / attachment option.
- Choose the file from your computer or device.
- Add a short description explaining what it is and why it may help.
- Publish the post.

EXAMPLE

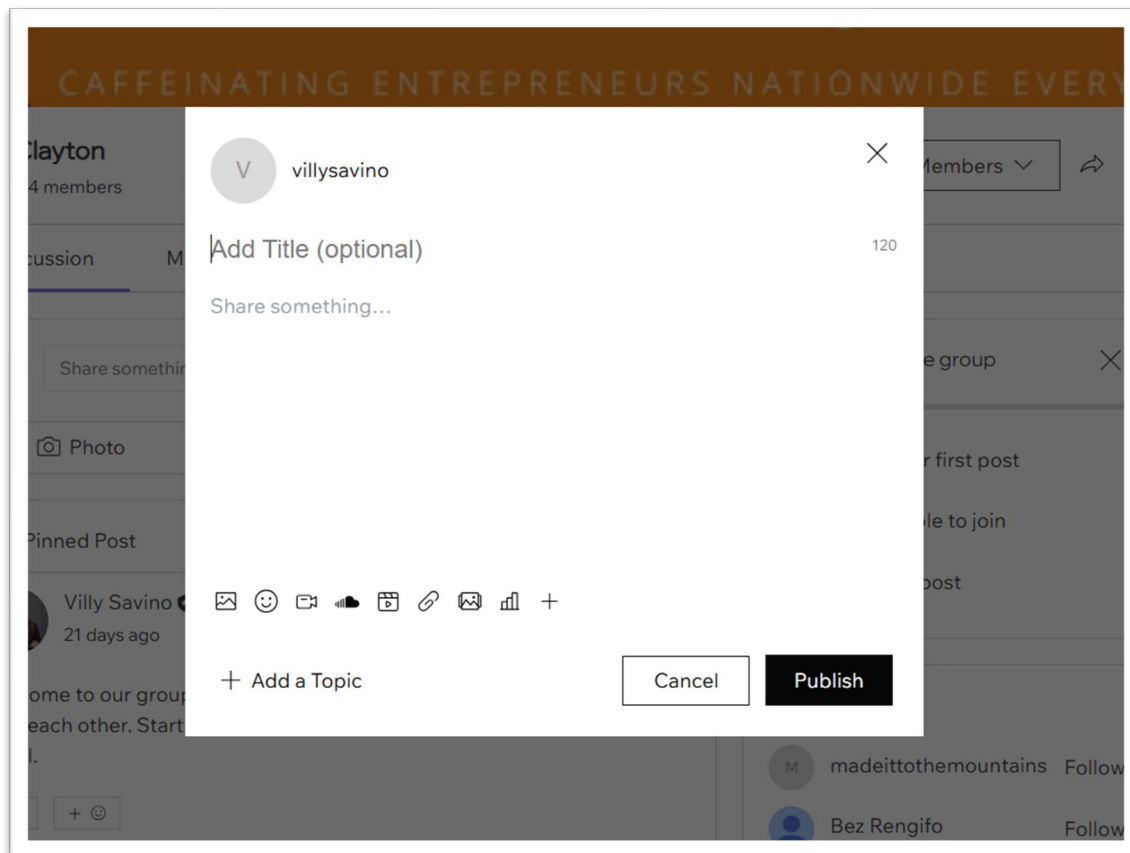

Sharing: Event Planning Checklist

“Our team uses this checklist when preparing for our annual conference. I’m sharing it in case anyone would like to adapt it for their organization.”

05 JOIN THE CONVERSATION

You do not have to create a new post to contribute.

Open an existing post and add a comment. Share your experience, advice, recommendations, resources or lessons learned. Even a short response can be helpful.

06 FIND SOMETHING

Use Search within the group and enter keywords related to the topic.

Search before starting a duplicate conversation — another member may already have shared something useful.

07 STAY UPDATED

Use More Actions → Notification Settings to choose what you want to hear about.

Depending on your preferences, notifications may include new posts, comments, reactions, group updates and new members.

08 CONNECT WITH MEMBERS

Open Members to find and follow other 1MC Clayton participants.

10 COMMUNITY GUIDELINES

The value of the group depends on useful, respectful participation.

✓ DO	✗ PLEASE DON'T
Ask questions and participate. Share useful resources.	Share confidential or sensitive information. Upload material you do not have permission to distribute.
Help other members when you can.	Spam the community or repeatedly promote products or services.
Search before starting a duplicate conversation.	Share another member's information without permission.
Keep conversations professional and respectful.

ASK A QUESTION. • SHARE A RESOURCE. • JOIN THE CONVERSATION.

Your experience can help someone else.

A question you ask may be something 10 other members were wondering too. A resource you share could save another member hours of work. An experience you share may help someone make a better decision.
